What is a StoryWalk® ?

A StoryWalk® is an opportunity for children and families to experience reading a book while walking through a chosen area such as a park, trail or neighborhood. StoryWalks® promote literacy, outdoor physical activity, and encourage parent and community involvement.

Along with a parent, caregiver or educator, children follow a path from one laminated poster board to the next, each containing one page of a children's picture book. Some StoryWalks® include collecting items along the way, a snack or activity related to the story.

There may be a common theme between the story and the season or the location where the walk takes place, encouraging children to make connections between the text and the world around them. The boards tell a story and provide prompts for adults to guide discussions, and help children engage in the text by asking questions and making predictions.

The Parent Resource Centre has a collection of books available for community partners to borrow, free of charge. For more information on book titles and availability, contact an Early Literacy Specialist at the Parent Resource Centre at (613) 565-2467 or www.parentresource.ca

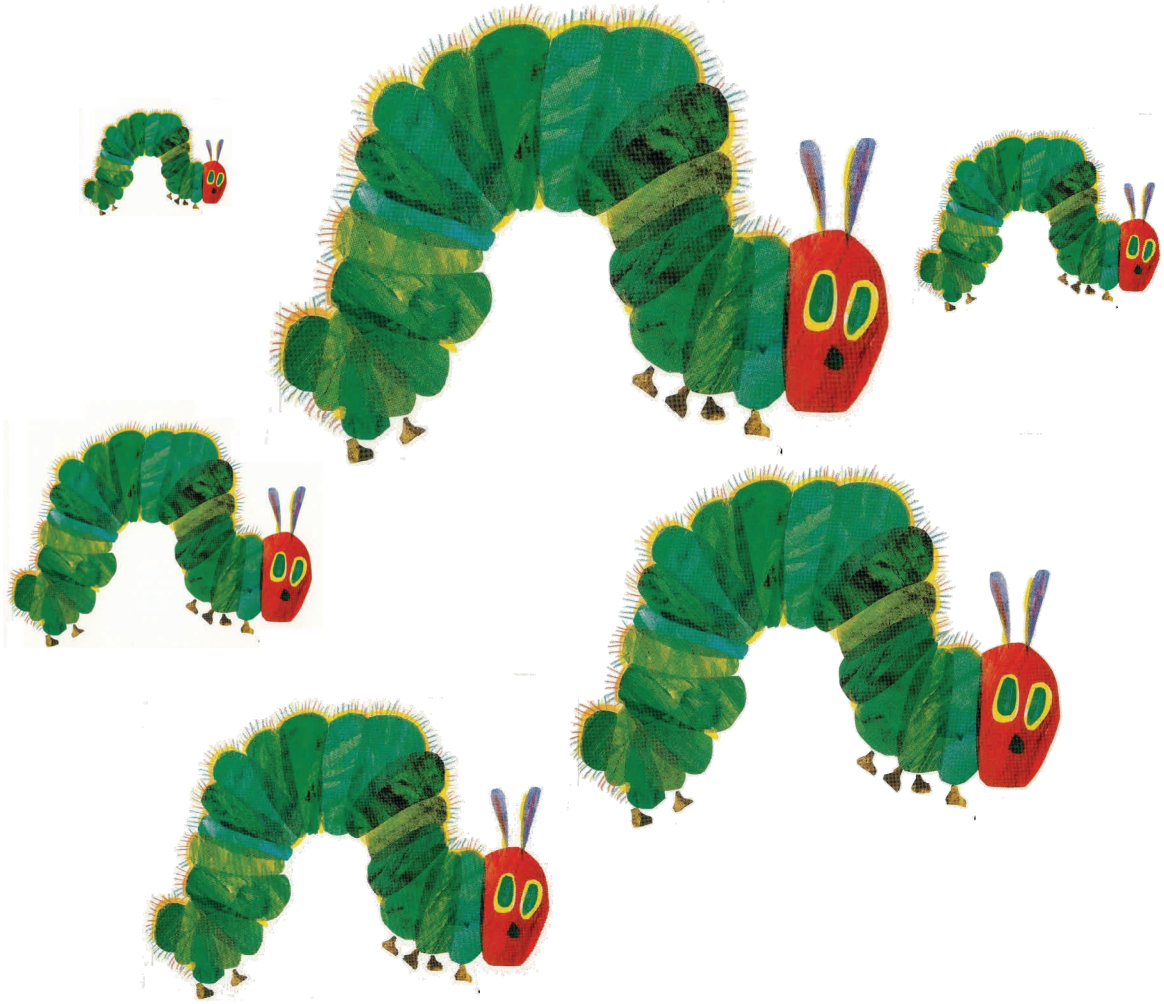
Can you find the smallest and the largest caterpillar?



Lets sing together

Five little butterflies by the door.
One flew away, then there was four.

Four little butterflies by the tree.
One flew away, then there was three.

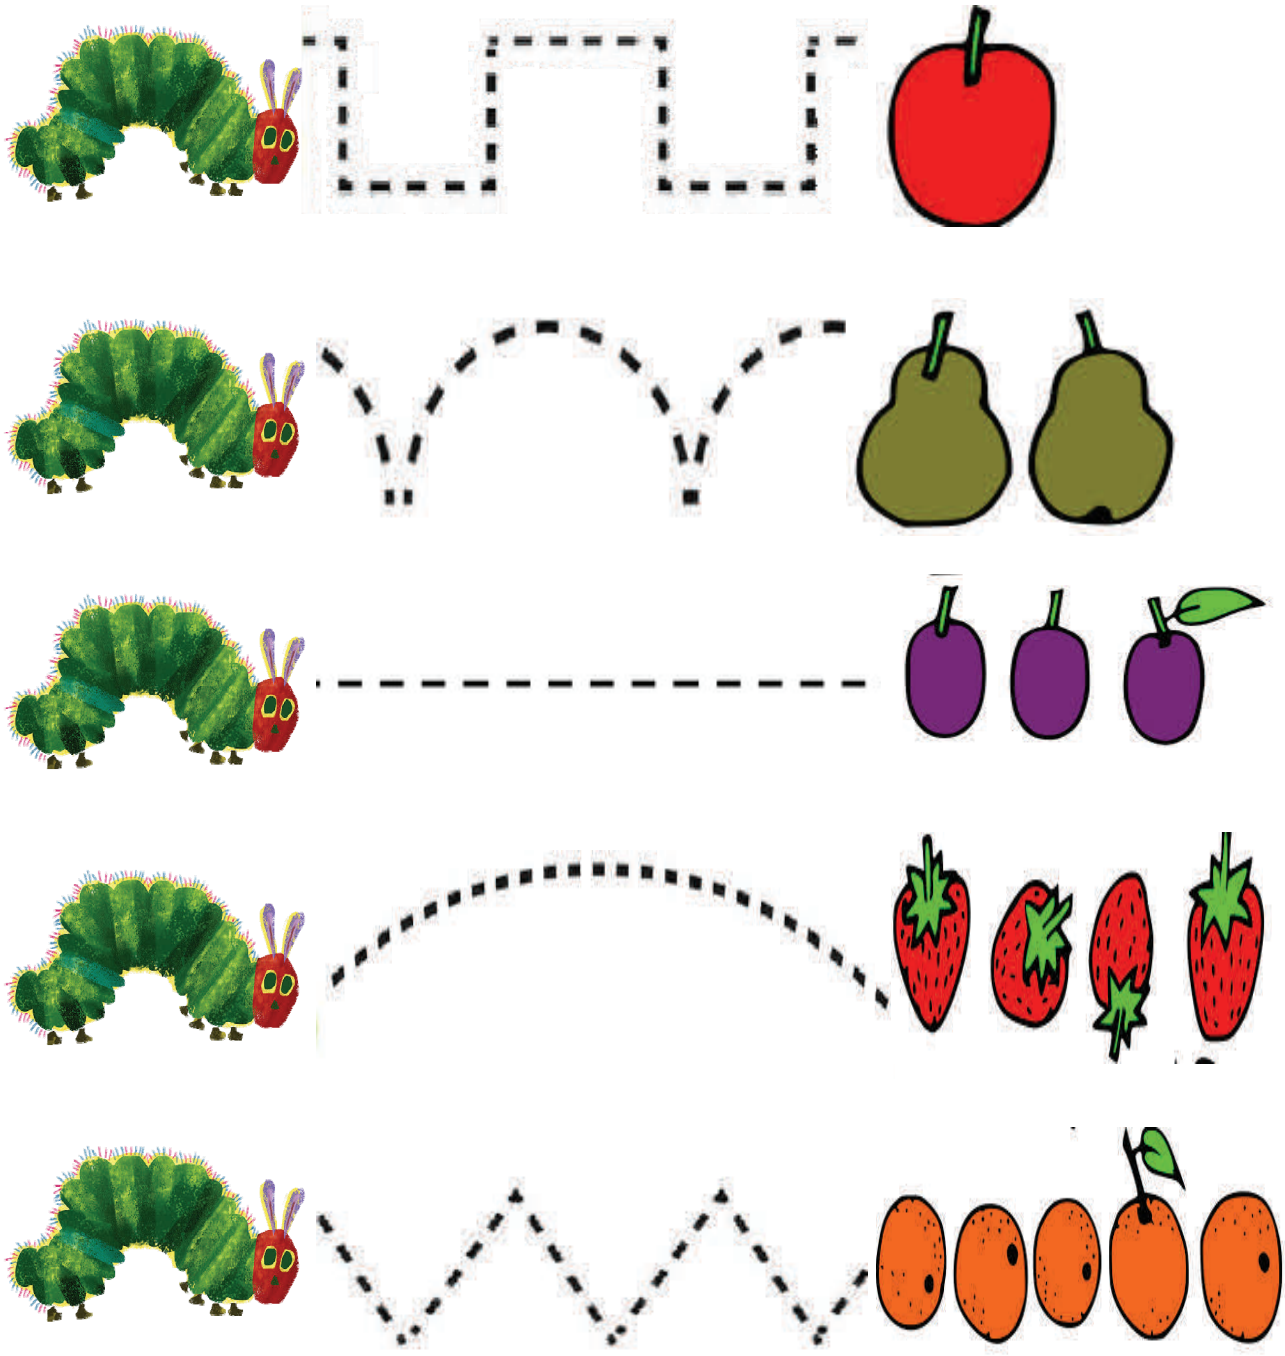
Three little butterflies up in the blue.
One flew away, then there was two.

Two little butterflies out in the sun.
One flew away, then there was one.

One little butterfly now all alone.
She felt a little lonely, she went home.

Can you help the caterpillar get to the fruits?

Practice making these lines by drawing with chalk on the pavement!



Getting ready to read

Talking

Talking with children helps them learn oral language, one of the most critical early literacy skills. The experience of self expression also stimulates brain development, which supports all learning.

Singing

Singing (which also includes rhyming) increases children's awareness and sensitivity to the sounds in words. This helps prepare children to decode print (written language).

Playing

Play is one of the primary ways young children learn about the world around them. General knowledge is an important literacy skill that helps children understand stories once they begin to read.

Reading

Reading together or shared reading, remains the single most effective way to help children become proficient readers.

Writing

Writing and reading go hand in hand. Writing helps children learn that letters and words represent sounds and that print has meaning.
